

Health and Safety Consultancy

Environmental Scientifics Group's Health and Safety Consultancy provides a complete range of Health and Safety solutions designed to keep organisations, management and the workforce safe. With businesses facing mounting pressure to comply with ever increasing demands from insurance companies and employees, coupled with changing legislation, organisations require a fresh approach to managing Health and Safety risks that take into consideration the business needs, cost and identified risks.

Through a partnership approach, ESG offers an innovative and common sense approach to Health and Safety and risk management. This covers all potential areas of risk from the environment, to the building, fire safety, food safety, construction safety, accident and incident management, as well as expert witness.

Services include:

- Health and Safety corporate compliance audits
- Provision of a Health and Safety competent person
- Development of risk management systems
- Development of policy
- Site audit programmes
- Training
- Consultancy

ESG's flexible approach to Health and Safety with tailored and practical solutions supports clients in achieving all elements of Health and Safety legislative compliance.

Health and Safety Consultancy

Health and Safety Corporate Compliance Audit

The Corporate Audit is an independent and impartial review of the policy documentation, procedures and systems for the management of Health and Safety against HSG 65. It is carried out by a senior consultant with enforcement and auditing experience and is a comprehensive process culminating in a series of recommendations that take into consideration the organisation's objectives, budget and legislative requirements. Key stages include:

- Discussion of responsibilities for Health and Safety management with key stakeholders
- Identification of Legislation and Regulations applicable to the organisation
- Desktop review of all Health and Safety related documentation
- Completion of a series of site visits to verify information and liaison with site staff to gain a full picture of the Health and Safety culture of the organisation
- Producing a summary report outlining the current compliance status of the organisation highlighting areas of non-compliance, along with areas of excellence
- Production a prioritised action plan towards achieving compliance along with practical recommendations tailored to the clients requirements
- Presentation of the report findings to all key stakeholders within the organisation and agree timescales for actions

Provision of a Health and Safety Competent Person

ESG's provision of a Health and Safety competent person service can be used as an alternative to recruitment and internal management, ensuring you have the skills you need when you need them.

Development of Risk Management Systems

ESG works with clients to create both electronic or paper-based management systems to meet business needs that meet the requirements of HSG 65 or other accreditations including OHSAS18001 and ISO14001.

Development of Policy

ESG's consultants can develop policies for health, fire and food safety as well as specialist policies such as stress management or driver safety.

Site Audit Programmes

ESG offers site audit programmes tailored to client specific objectives. Site audits can be based around any key factors the client wishes to include in addition to legislative compliance such as internal procedures, key performance indicators and benchmarking objectives.

Training

ESG supports clients with its in-house training in Health and Safety, Fire and Food. All its trainers are practising consultants, offering a mix of experience and practical application.

Consultancy

In line with our commitment to fully support our clients, ESG offers a complete consultancy service reacting to any requests our clients may have including:

- Risk assessment
- DSE assessment
- Accident investigation
- Guidance on legislative updates
- Enforcement liaison
- Insurer liaison
- CDM consultancy
- Contractor management reviews, audit and management system development
- Claims management
- Accident and incident management
- Expert witness

ESG House
Bretby Business Park
Ashby Road
Burton on Trent
Staffordshire DE15 0XD

Tel 0845 6032112
sales@esg.co.uk